Midwest Veterinary Supply to carry Avalon Medical Products

STILLWATER, MN – August 26, 2010 - Avalon Medical Ltd. is pleased to announce the completion of a distribution agreement with Midwest Veterinary Supply. Beginning in August of this year, the complete line of PeriSeal Tissue Patches and PoliPhase Surgical Sealants will be available for order through Midwest Veterinary Supply's sales team. In September an injectable collagen product for canine and feline incontinence will become available for sale.

Midwest Veterinary Supply, Inc. is a wholesale distributor of veterinary supplies serving veterinary clinics in over 28 states.

In operation since 1998, Avalon Medical was founded to serve the veterinary community with cost effective, reliable, long-term implant products. Avalon Medical has worked closely with academic institutions and clinical practitioners to maximize the efficiency of our devices. The founders of Avalon Medical have in excess of thirty years experience developing devices for the human and veterinary surgical community.

Avalon Medical's research and manufacturing is conducted at our lab facility located in the scenic river valley of Stillwater, MN. By keeping the company vertically integrated, Avalon Medical is provided a greater level of flexibility to provide veterinarians with the most unique and innovative products available today.
